

Neg CX to Aff

(Generic question against opponent's case)

-Is (value) always good?

Yes –So nothing is more important than [value]?

Yes –[move on]

Maybe some things –Could you give some examples of what may be more important than (value)? [If they say something similar to what you're saying, then they are basically saying that you're side is higher than theirs]

No –So some things are more important than (value)?

Yes –Could you give some examples of what may be more important than (value)? [If they say something similar to what you're saying, then they are basically saying that you're side is higher than theirs]

No –[move on, point out in next speech that opponent shifted position on their value]

(Generic question against opponent's case)

-What is the purpose of (value)?

(Question that bolsters my case)

-If someone in this room attacked you, would that be okay?

Yes –[move on]

No –If someone in this room attacked you while your friend just stood by and watched, would that be okay?

Yes –[move on]

No –[move on, point out in next speech that globalism stops people from attacking you]

-----VALUE-SPECIFIC QUESTIONS-----

Community:

-Globalism is valuing other nations above your own, correct?

Correct –Would it make sense to say that nationalism is the opposite of globalism?

Yes –[move on, point out in next speech that nationalism is the opposite of globalism; therefore, Neg's definition of nationalism is preferable]

No –[move on, point out in next speech that this doesn't make sense]

Human Rights:

-Could you give examples of the specific human rights that nationalism upholds?

–[move on, point out in next speech that nationalism only upholds liberty, while globalism upholds more than liberty]

Just Social Order:

-Would apathy towards a dire situation be considered morally wrong?

Yes –Is the goal of nationalism to protect the citizens of a nation?

Yes –Is globalism concerned with protecting everyone in the world?

Yes -Would it be morally wrong to protect only a certain group of people?

Yes -[move on, point out in next speech that nationalism is immoral]

No -[move on, point out in next speech that protecting only certain people is discrimination, which is morally wrong]

No -[move on, point out in next speech that if globalism wasn't concerned with protecting everyone, then it wouldn't be globalism]

No -[move on, point out in next speech that if nationalism wasn't just protecting the citizens of a nation, then it wouldn't be nationalism]

No -[move on, point out in next speech that if everyone just stood by and watched, there would probably be disastrous consequences]

Liberty:

-Is liberty a right?

Yes -[move on, point out in next speech that human rights subsumes liberty]

No -[move on]

National Stability:

-How does nationalism uphold stability in a nation's identity?

-How does nationalism uphold stability in a nation's freedoms?

-How does nationalism uphold stability in a nation's security?

-[move on, point out in next speech that aff is only focusing on one aspect of national stability]

Progress:

-What's faster: building a house by yourself, or building a house with a team?

Yourself -[move on]

Team -[move on, point out in next speech that cooperation achieves progress]

Purpose of Government:

-So in your own words, what is the purpose of government?

-In your own words, what is nationalism?

-[move on, point out in next speech that purpose of government is circular]

Quality of Life:

-When you say quality of life, do you mean quality of life for a nation, or for the world?

A nation -[move on, point out in next speech that quality of life for a nation is the same thing as nationalism, so quality of life is circular]

The world -[move on, point out in next speech that quality of life for the world is the same thing as globalism, so opponent is actually advocating for negative side of the resolution]

Right to Individual Beliefs:

-Are individual beliefs a right?

Yes -[move on, point out in next speech that human rights subsumes right to individual beliefs]

No -[move on]

Self-Determination:

-Is self-determination a right?

Yes -[move on, point out in next speech that human rights subsumes self-determination]

No -[move on]
